EXPERIENCE

Independent Graphic Designer (2015–Current)

Completed various design projects for individual and group clients throughout local communities; Developed both print and digital visual content for clients' personal, promotional, and professional uses.

Production Assistant, Gemological Institute of America (2018)

Participated in the workflow production of polished and accurately measured gems from clients for grading services; Demonstrated ability to quickly retain knowledge about gems and gemological tools as well as contribute to the lab's process of servicing gems from around the world.

Student Caller, Rutgers Foundation (2013–2017)

Served as college ambassador for the University's alumni outreach and fundraising efforts; Demonstrated excellent communication and negotiation skills, along with ability to think quickly in response to alumni questions and/or concerns.

Intern, The Jones Group, Inc. (2012–2013)

Assisted Technical Director and other employees in ensuring garments produced by factories matched up with designers' specifications and were ready to be sold to the public; Contributed to the research that inspired clothing designs for the following Spring/Summer season.
